

FALLING FOR

Retro

By David Goldberg

Retro-inspired styles, eye-catching hues and bold looks are all expected to trend when it comes to eyewear for women this fall. Beverly Suliteanu, WestGroup's vice-president of product development and creative director, says it's time to get interesting, colourful and retro.

"Women of all ages are gravitating towards interesting shapes," she says. "The hexagon and the '70s slightly oversized square have been particularly popular as well as the more angular cat-eye shapes."

Fysh F-3655 is a perfect fit for this trendy forecast with options of elegant gold or silver that can be paired with a number of eye-catching colours, including plum, gold, seafoam and lilac.
